Call for papers

Following two previous workshops (Portugal, 2005 & Scotland, 2006), submissions are invited for ICTATLL 2007 (Japan). Papers in relevant areas including, but not limited to, applications of ICT for language analysis (e.g., corpus analysis), language teaching technologies (including, CBT, teaching delivery systems, case studies), and language learning technologies (including CALL, VLEs, learning assessment and competence testing). Papers reporting practical experience or theoretical perspectives are also invited.

Papers should be at least 5 pages and maximum 10 pages in length, prepared in accordance with specified workshop guidelines. Accepted papers will be included in the Workshop Proceedings. Selected papers will also be considered for publication in an associated book.

Presentations

Authors of accepted papers are required to register for the meeting and present their paper at the workshop. All presentations will take place in plenary.

Submission details

When submitting a paper this should be sent by email as an attached PDF file to papers@ictatll.org to arrive by Friday 18th May 2007. Submissions will be reviewed by the Workshop committee and decisions relayed to authors by Friday 8th June 2007.

Paper format

Papers should be formatted according to the template provided on the Workshop web site (www.ictatll.org).
